Techstreet Enterprise

Features and benefits guide

Techstreet Enterprise™ is a secure Web portal that quickly delivers industry standards to everyone in your organization – regardless of where they work.

This managed information solution brings value to your organization by reducing search time and improving workflows, increasing quality and safety, and eliminating redundant purchases.

Feature	Benefit
Web-based access to industry standards	Provides a single set of controlled documents to multiple users throughout your organization with 24/7 access from any location
Full-text PDF files	Documents are easily searchable and readable using Adobe Reader
Flexible content options	Don't over-pay for large packages or documents you don't need
Automatic updates	Save time and money with continuous and immediate access to the most current standards available; meets regulations for auditing and compliance; protect against general liability
Email notification when automatic updates occur	Reduce inaccuracies and re-work knowing that a new version is available; stay competitive in an ever-changing business environment
Streamlined interface	Easy to use and navigate; all information displays in a single window with fast document rendering
Document relationship links	Readily available links to replaced, withdrawn or amended documents, plus links to referenced documents if applicable
Search or browse entire collection	Quickly locate documents by keyword, document or full text search; browse entire document collection by publisher
Multiple custom lists	Create custom lists of documents by project or department within your subscription; easily access and share lists among team members
Download, save, copy and print	Document flexibility
Offline viewing	Easy access to documents in the field or while traveling
Historical content included (when available)	Save time looking for previous versions
Reference linking	Quickly grab document links to share with other subscription users via email or in other communications
